The fresh genetics of this structurally correct, moderate-framed bull will allow you to enjoy the benefits of a true heterosis cross. Being one of the youngest bulls on test makes his numbers all the more impressive. Birth Weight to Weaning Weight, he averaged 3.10 lbs per day with no creep feed. His adjusted Weaning Weight was 743 lbs. And, for the first 56 days on test, he averaged 3.96 lbs per day.

His dam is one of the top Lincoln Red cows in North America and his grand-sire is none other than Camson Pandrama, the foundation bull of Canadian fame.

This polled easy keeping bull will bring length and depth to the calves he sires. In addition, the trademark carcass quality of the Lincoln Red will enhance the feeders check at the packer, thereby increasing repeat business for your herd. With birth weights averaging 83 lbs, he will truly be a maintenance-free choice for your herd.
